

Connection

November 3, 2023

Editor Pam Lottinville

Leave a Book—Take a Book, the brain child of Carrie Navratil of St. Anne is ready for swapping thanks to the generous support of Jerry Goodrich and Chris Sutherland who worked on the display with her.

After two months of planning and prepping, the display holds books for children, teens and adults. Carrie said, “We could still use more teen books.” The books could be dropped off at 505 W. Station Street. You could also send her a message on Facebook.

Carrie googled ideas for the book exchange with the results of her effort in the photo above. Carrie adds, “I hope it gets used and grows. Maybe we will need a bigger display in the future.”

I am always looking for news to publish in the Village of St. Anne Connection.

Please send news to Pam lottmom1@gmail.com

Including church news that is for the community.

Craft & Vendor Fair

The 24th Annual Craft and Vendor Fair is to be held Saturday, November 4th, 2023 from 9 am to 2 pm at the St. Anne Catholic Church Parish Hall. A good variety of booths featured.

Enjoy lunch while you shop. Homemade soups, Sloppy Joes and Desserts will be available.

St. Anne Food Pantry

Time: 8:00 am to 9:00 am at Parish Hall across from St. Anne Catholic Church.

Every other Saturday, dates as follows:

November 4, 18

December 2, 16, and 30th

All St. Anne Residents are welcome.

No income requirements.

Donations are always welcome.

For more information call:

Beverly Witvoet 815 353 0523

Betty Wielgus 815 954 0679

Donna Price, assistant

Hometown Artisans Open House

December 9 & 10, 2023

10 am to 4 pm

159 West Station Street

St. Anne

Featuring a drawing for five $20.00

In-store Gift Certificates.

Gifts for All Ages